Welcome to the homepage of our Beyond the Mountains of Madness campaign, played beginning in late January, 2009 and ending in early April, 2010. We used the most up to date rules for Call of Cthulhu and played on an irregular schedule. Although the game is over, I would welcome any questions or comments on it.

About — Beyond the Mountains of Madness In 1930 an expedition from Miskatonic University met a terrible fate in the Antarctic interior after having broadcast about incredible fossil findings in the foothills of a massive previously undiscovered mountain range.

About — Beyond the Mountains of Madness

One had to be careful of one's imagination in the lee of those overshadowing mountains of madness. As I have indicated, Gedney and one dog turned out to be missing in the end. When we came on that terrible shelter we had missed two dogs and two men; but the fairly unharmed dissecting tent, which we entered after investigating the monstrous graves, had something to reveal.

Beyond the Mountains of Madness exudes the proper Alien -vibe that aligns with Cthulhu horror. It isolates the PCs in a terrifying setting, and guarantees that many (if not all) of them will be killed, driven mad, or forced into actions that will make them loathe themselves for the rest of their lives. It's not perfect though.
